

EGC 2010

January 26-29, 2010, Hammamet, Tunisia

CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

10th International French-speaking Conference on the Extraction and management of Knowledge

January 26-29, 2010, Hammamet, Tunisia

<http://www.projets.rnu.tn/egc2010/>

EGC aims at bringing together researchers, vendors and users coming from the communities of databases, information systems, machine learning, knowledge representation, statistics and data mining. We are looking forward to an exciting conference offering a privileged place for exchanging experiences between researchers and industrial specialists, which should emerge new needs and future challenges that will help the growth of the community. EGC 2010 also hosts a series of tutorials and workshops that cover important aspects in the thematic context of knowledge discovery from databases. In addition, for its tenth anniversary, EGC will take place in Hammamet, a coastal Tunisian city known for its relaxing stay, its beautiful beaches, and its typical local culture.

Schedule:

Tuesday, 26th January, 2010

Tutorials and Workshops

Wednesday to Friday, 27-29th January, 2010

Main Conference

Please note the days of the week of the Main Conference

Information on the conference and registration is available at:

<http://www.projets.rnu.tn/egc2010/>

See you in Hammamet!

EGC 2010 organization committee